

Virgin Coconut Oil

For Man's Bestfriend

Healthy Skin and Coat

1. Reduces allergic reactions and improves skin health
2. Coats look sleek and glossy
3. No more bad doggy smell, as it neutralizes odors
4. Prevents and treats yeast and fungal infections

Got wounds?

1. Disinfects cuts
2. Helps wounds and hotspots heal when applied on skin
3. Reduces weeping eye stain

Healthier and Happier

1. Helps reduce weight by converting food to energy
2. Manage diabetes
3. Powerful antibacterial, antiviral and anti-fungal agents
4. Balances insulin and promotes normal thyroid function
5. Helps prevent or control diabetes
6. Aids arthritis and ligament problems
7. Helps prevent infection and disease
8. Aids in increasing energy

Bones and Immune System

1. Anti-bacterial, anti-fungal, anti-viral
2. Boost Immune system to help fight diseases
3. Aids in health of ligaments
4. Helps with arthritis relief
5. Improves brain energy metabolism
6. Reduces risk of brain lesions in older dogs.

Daily Dosage

Start Small - Give time for your dog to adjust to coconut oil

1/4 teaspoon per day for small dogs and puppies
1 teaspoon for large dogs, or even just a dab if your dog's constitution is sensitive.

General VCO Daily Dosage

About 1 teaspoon per 10 pounds of body weight daily
Or about 1 tablespoon per 30 pounds

Coconut oil on Skin

For good results, apply to the skin and let the oil absorb for about five minutes. After the five minutes, you can apply and a very light rinse. If you feel you haven't removed the excess oil, finish up with a light application of shampoo and another quick rinse.

Give him a nice bath

Melt about 2 tablespoons of coconut oil into a cup of hot water. Once you've finished the shampooing portion of the bath, refill it with clean lukewarm water and add in the melted oil. Using a cup or jug, pour this oil and water mixture over your dog's body and rub it into his skin. Not only will it soothe and moisturize your dog's skin and give him a healthier looking coat, he'll smell yummy!

Help! My dog's poop got wet.

Some dogs need time to adjust to VCO because their body got used to eating chemical-based products! The result is diarrhea or wet stool.
Don't worry, your bestfriend is just detoxifying. We recommend giving him small dosages at first to give time for his body to adjust.

Learn more about what VCO can do for you!

Visit www.agnutriceutical.com